January 2018 MNS President's Message

Happy New Year to everyone, I hope that you survived the holiday festivities and are ready to get down to business in 2018. With the way 2017 wrapped up, it is anyone's guess what we have to look forward to in the coming year. Bitcoins were at an all-time high, which is highly suspect given their ephemeral nature. Much like the tulip craze of years ago, this fad is most likely to wear itself out before leading to something new.

I was delighted to see so many people at our Christmas holiday party meeting, in spite of the bitter cold. There was an excellent spread of refreshments and ten pizzas were nearly devoured throughout the span of our meeting. The members brought so many great items for show-and-tell that we did not even have time for our annual BINGO game. As a result, we will play for prizes at our January meeting.

The newly elected officers will be sworn in at the January meeting. We have a significant amount of turn over this year, with a new secretary and treasurer both coming into the fold. I think it is great to have this new level of leadership in our club to keep it moving forward. Lee served faithfully as our club's treasurer for many years, a couple of decades actually; we owe him a debt of gratitude for his time and commitment to the club. Thank you very much!

February 1st is the application deadline for any members that would like to apply for a scholarship to the ANA Summer Seminar (aka "coin camp") in Colorado Springs. Please reference our club website for further details and application instructions. Also, with the start of another year, that means it is time to revisit our fantasy numismatic picks from the previous year and pick new ones for the year ahead. At one of the next meetings we will tabulate the gains and losses endured by the entrants.

Please remember that the club needs to receive your dues payment in order to remain a member in good standing for the coming year. Please pay membership secretary Leon A. as soon as possible at a future meeting.

Happy Collecting,
Justin J. Perrault

An Armenian Gem

L. A. Saryan

For those who might wonder about the value of Armenian numismatic collectibles, consider the results of the March 14, 2017, auction held by the venerable German firm of Fritz Kunker. Lot 2010 of Kunker auction 289 is a solid gold medal struck in Russia to commemorate the capture of the city of Yerevan, today the capital of the Republic of Armenia, from Persia by the armies of the Russian Czar.

Both sides of the medal depict Mt. Ararat, the obverse showing it rising above the Biblical deluge surmounted by the Ark of Noah, and the opposite face showing the mountain with a flag at its peak, the date 1828, the river Araxes, and in the foreground the skyline of the city of Yerevan as it existed under Persian rule. The absence of a legend does not in the least diminish the appeal of this medal; rather, it compels the numismatist to research and appreciate its historical significance.

The medal is 172.39 grams, 64.57 mm diameter and catalogued as Diakov 476.1. Described as being of the most extreme rarity, the original estimate was 50,000 Euro with a starting bid of 40,000 Euro. After obviously vigorous bidding, this gem was hammered down for an astounding 110,000 Euro ($118,100 US). This example was from the collection of Georg Mikhailovich, who obtained it at an Adolph Hess auction in Lucerne in 1939. I'd be surprised if another gold example of this quality remains in private hands.

This is one of the most attractive and historically significant medals issued by Russia in the nineteenth century. For the first time in several centuries, an important part of the Armenian homeland came under Christian control; this later became a key factor in the reestablishment of Armenian statehood. The Persians were forced south across the Araxes River, and soon thereafter Czarist armies pushed into Ottoman territory to the west, capturing several important cities with large Armenian populations from the Turks.

A handful of bronze examples of this medal are known, and collectors of Armenian medals consider themselves fortunate if they can locate an example. Silver examples were also made but I have never seen one. The existence of a pristine gold example in a private collection is an exciting revelation for numismatists interested in Armenian medals and the history of Armenia's association with Russia in the nineteenth century.

Year End Results

This year we had eleven (11) participants.

In general the participants as a team did exceptionally well!

Eight (8) ended up with positive portfolios, and

Only two (2) had negative results. While only one participant broke even, a very different result from past years. This year we have a back-to-back winner.

This was a very different year as many key date collector coins increased in value, along with many Silver Dollars, both Trade and Morgan type. These categories are commonly selected every year with mixed results. Another surprise to me was the overall increase with early copper cents and half cents. Last year I had all of my eggs in that basket and lost big on every coin selected. This was another year of extremes both ways, positive and negative. We had some record losses and a record increase on one selected coin that went from $3,000.00 in 2017 to a whopping $5,000.00 in 2018! A $2,000.00 increase, chosen by our Fantasy Winner this year. The coin was an 1809 Capped Bust Dollar with a reeded edge. Below is an Obverse example of that coin type. The multiplying factor was that the winner selected three (3) of these coins in his portfolio, so it was a $6,000.00 gain! We also had one coin that dropped $5,000.00 – wow, and that was a 1908-S Twenty Dollar gold in MS60! I'm glad I don't have that coin in my safety deposit box!

U.S. Silver Half Dollar, 1809, reeded edge

This year's top fantasy coin that had the greatest increase in value in the grade MS60 U.S. Silver Half Dollar, 1809 Capped Bust Type with reeded edge
2017 Value = $3,000.00
2018 Value = $5,000.00
X 3 = $6,000.00 Gain

The concept:

Did you ever want to make a substantial coin purchase for investment purposes, but the only thing stopping you was your available funds to invest? This fun and educational program will enable you to spend up to $25,000.00 in fantasy dollars on coins, and after a year's time you will find out how you did with the selections you made in your coin investment portfolio. Participants will select coins that they feel will increase in price better than others. This is a fun way to learn how you would do if you had the guts and funds to actually do it, and the challenge of competing against your numismatic buddies.

Rules:

1. All portfolio selections must be only regular issue coins produced by the U.S. Mint, and be listed in the January 2018 issue of Coin's magazine. (NO COMMEMS, SETS or BULLION)
2. You can select up to ten (10) coins, in any listed grade you would like.
3. You cannot exceed the $25,000.00 limit.
4. You cannot change your portfolio during the year's time.
5. Portfolios will be added up using the January 2019 issue of Coin's magazine.

To participate, use the January 2018 issue of Coin's magazine price list and portfolio form to select the coins you would like to invest in. Be sure to turn in your portfolio prior to the deadline of 9:00 P.M. (end of the March meeting) 2018. Portfolios can be given to Leon Saryan to forward to me. You can track your portfolio results with each issue by subscribing to Coin's magazine. Prizes will be awarded to the top performers at the years end, and they will have bragging rights all year!
